Real Care Baby Project:

When I attended the CTE (Career & Technical Educators) conference this summer, I entered a raffle and WON a Real Care Baby! I have yet to received it yet, but believe it will arrive in the coming weeks and plan to include an experience with the baby as a project for this class. We will discuss this further as we figure out exactly what we have to work with, but it will be fun to figure it out together.

I will have a contract to sign when this baby leaves the classroom as it is expensive and needs to be cared for when it is under your responsibility. Both parent and student will need to agree to be responsible financially should something happen to the baby. Although it is not required to have this experience, it is highly recommended as a major part of your grade will be this project or a substitution that you come up with that is acceptable in place of it.

The above schedule is a rough estimate due to size of class and project impact.
