My name is Robyn Seba and I am the Parents As Teachers parent educator for the Drexel R-IV School.

PAT is a program available to all families with children prenatal through the age of 5 years old.

The program originated from the idea that parents are their child's earliest and best teacher. The program is designed to provide parents with:

- Up to date research on child development
- Help in positively impacting their child's development
- Identify milestones at each developmental stage
- Provide a support group from the parent educator

Involvement in PAT is completely voluntary and free (sponsored by the Drexel R-IV School District). If you would like to participate, or have any questions about the program, please call me at the school at 816 652-0402, or email me at rseba@drexelbobcats.net

I look forward to working with you and your family!

Sincerely,
